Superb Finnish design...

Solifer has long been the Nordic region's best-selling caravan and is by far the most popular brand of caravan in Finland today. Our caravans are known for rolling along reliably and smoothly, year in, year out. When our customers want to trade in their caravan, they're more than happy to make their new caravan a Solifer, too.

Arrive at your destination quickly and safely

Solifers are easy to tow, making your time behind the wheel both more enjoyable and hassle-free. Solifers also follow the movements of your vehicle closely, making easy work of narrow roads. Driving pleasure is one of the top reasons why our customers are so happy with their Solifer caravans. Their aerodynamic design means Solifer caravans follow tightly behind your car and avoid problems caused by unpredictable winds. In fact, Solifer's superior design makes it the world's fastest caravan. We're even in the Guinness Book of World Records. Even so, we encourage you to take it easy on the roads. After all, not everybody is towing a Solifer behind them!

Good aerodynamics mean a healthier environment

The characteristic design of the body of Solifer caravans is no accident. This special shape creates the lowest possible wind resistance, giving Solifer caravans the market's lowest cW value (unit of measurement for wind resistance). Naturally, the fact that our caravans are easy to tow means you will save on fuel, leaving more money in your pocket for other things.

A caravan for all seasons

Your Solifer caravan is fully equipped to withstand both winter cold and summer heat. We test all our caravans in a climate chamber, testing their durability against extreme weather conditions - rain, wind and cold. Doing so means you can always be sure of a comfortable and pleasant living environment inside, regardless of the weather outside.

Top-quality warranties and service

Solifer caravans are covered by a full two-year warranty. Your caravan is also covered by the market's best watertight guarantee for a full seven years. Solifer also has an extensive network of retailers who are ready to provide top-quality service and supply spare parts and accessories for both older and newer models. What's more, a second-hand Solifer also has great resale value when you decide you want to upgrade to a newer model.

If you're the kind of person that likes to get out and about, there's really only one choice. Solifer is committed to ensure a pleasant driving experience for you. But should you decide to pull over for a while, Solifer caravans also provide a great standard of living comfort.

New design

You will notice a number of this year's biggest improvements as soon as you step inside your new Solifer. We've introduced a completely new modern interior, with new cabinets and doors - and new handles.

The majority of models also come fitted with an all-new kitchen. The kitchen includes a new, thicker but lighter benchtop; square sink with cutting board; combination fridge and freezer; a four-burner hob in the Finlandia model and a practical combi-hob in the Artic model. The new kitchen also comes equipped with an ultra-modern exhaust fan with built-in spotlights and a new, smart tap for the sink.

Artic 366 MHE

Artic 366 MH

Our most compact model - the Artic - is surprisingly well equipped with a toilet, kitchen and a sofa that doubles as a bed. The compact Artic is also a dream to park. It's perfect for use as a cosy, private retreat or as comfortable living quarters for city getaways.

The Solifer Artic 366 comes in two varieties. When it's time to hit the hay, the 366 MHE offers a large double bed, while the sofas in the 366 MH convert to two single beds.

Solifer caravans now also include a new ceiling lamp design as well as improved lighting in the lounge area and in the bedroom. They also come complete with a headboard for your bed.

While we're talking about our most recent refinements, we can't overlook the Finlandia 690 model, back by popular demand with two updated interior designs.

Solifer Artic 480

Artic 480 MH

An average family with children can be comfortably accommodated in just over ten smart and well-planned square metres. Thanks to a well-designed layout, we've made the best possible use of each centimetre so as to include all of the functions and features of a larger caravan in a compact format.

How about a small but fully functional kitchen; toilet; sofa that doubles as a bed; and a surprisingly large amount of storage space?

Artic 520 TBR

If you like the idea of a world of possibilities, then this is the solution for you. Here, two can sleep comfortably in a design that allows for two separate beds. If you choose the double bed option, as shown in the picture, you will also have a larger kitchen with more cupboard space and a full-sized kitchen benchtop.

All Artic caravans are fitted with a clever and handy integrated kitchen sink and a two-burner hob.

Solifer Artic 560

Artic 560 E

For many, this is the perfect combination - compact and easy to handle on the road, but still with plenty of space and a high standard of comfort inside.

Choose from one of four different interior layouts. Don't miss the E-model, with the door at the rear.

The well-appointed kitchen allows you the luxury of being able to prepare gourmet meals. A gas oven is also available as an optional extra.

In the Artic model, a sofa with a table attached to the wall is standard, though many of our customers opt for a generous and cosy rounded sofa with the cushions and upholstery of their choice.

There is a wonderful feeling of freedom in being able to just pack up and take off when the mood strikes you. At times like these, Solifer's Artic caravan is the perfect choice. Smart, narrow and easy to handle for those who are often on the road.
